Thank you for your inquiry and interest in the Southern California Contractors Association, Inc. Construction University Program Grant Assistance.

PURPOSE

The purpose of the SCCA Construction University Program, which is funded by the Construction Industry Advancement Funds, is to support the educational, training and safety goals of Contractor Members, Allied Members, Associate Contractor Members, and signatory Affiliate Member companies. To facilitate this the Construction University Program is offering limited grant assistance to help offset the cost associated with member company educational and training programs and classes. We encourage members that are planning or have recently provided training for their employees to apply for grant assistance to the Construction University Program.

ELIGIBILITY

Construction University grant assistance is available to SCCA Contractor Members, Allied Members, Associate Contractor Members and Signatory Affiliate Member companies. The amount of grant assistance these SCCA members are eligible for is determined based upon the dollar amount paid in annual membership dues. Applications for qualified training and educational courses covered by the program will be evaluated monthly on a case-by-case basis. Please see attached list of potential training subject categories that will be considered for grant assistance. Additional subject categories can also be considered.

GRANT CONSIDERATIONS

Applications for grant assistance will be evaluated by the SCCA Construction University Program Committee each month on a case-by-case basis.

Other factors that could influence the awarding and level of grant assistance the Committee might consider are the size of the applicant company, prior applications by same member, and the type of training courses. The Committee will attempt to equitably apportion the Advancement Funds between members.
